WHAT TO DO: DINING & SHOPPING

The hardest part about having an event in Columbus is deciding which restaurants to visit. Can't-miss spots include the North Market, where you'll find a variety of local eateries under one roof, and the countless dining options, from sit-down to fast-casual, along the streets of the Short North Arts District. For a full list by district, visit our restaurant map.

Home to retailers like The Limited, Bath & Body Works, Victoria's Secret and Abercrombie & Fitch, Columbus knows how to shop. Expansive shopping districts include Easton and Polaris Fashion Place. Find more boutiques, galleries and independent retailers in the Short North Arts District and nearby Grandview Heights.

COLUMBUS LIVE FORWARD PLEDGE

Having ensured proper health and safety protocols are in place, many of Columbus' vibrant businesses have safely reopened and are ready to welcome visitors. Businesses that sign the Live Forward Pledge signal their agreement to follow federal, state, and local health and safety guidelines for reopening during the COVID-19 pandemic. View the full list of restaurants, attractions, shops and more that have signed the pledge here.
